COMMON FACTS

A. The State of Arizona undertakes to investigate the I-10 Freeway Shooting Case.

13. In the summer of 2015, Defendant State of Arizona, through the Department of Public Safety, undertook responsibility for investigating a series of shootings that occurred along or near the I-10 freeway in Phoenix, Arizona, which became known as the "I-10 Freeway Shooting case."

14. During its investigation, DPS retrieved bullets and/or bullet fragments from four separate shooting incidents: Incident A, B, C, and D.

15. Incident A occurred August 29, 2015 at approximately 1103 hours involving a Cadillac Escalade travelling eastbound on the I-10 near 19th Avenue.

16. Incident B occurred at approximately 1109 hours involving a passenger bus travelling westbound on the I-10 near 43rd Avenue.

17. Incident C occurred at approximately 2215 hours involving a Kia travelling eastbound on the I-10 near the exit for northbound SR51 and eastbound SR 202.

18. Incident D occurred August 30, 2015, between 2145 and 2215 hours involving a BMW travelling westbound on the I-10 near SR 51.

19. Defendants have failed to produce any evidence that Incident D occurred at any other time other than between 2145 hours and 2215 hours on August 30, 2015.

1 20. Defendants have produced no evidence that Leslie Merritt, Jr. was at or near
2 the scene of any of the shooting incidents.

3 21. On August 31, 2015, DPS Detective Ron Baroldy requested that the DPS
4 crime lab, CRCL, analyze and compare the bullets and bullet fragments recovered
5 from the four shooting incidents.

6 22. DPS crime lab personnel told DPS detectives that the evidentiary bullets and 7 fragments from all four incidents all came from a single firearm with certain class
8 characteristics.

9 23. DPS crime lab personnel identified the evidentiary bullets and fragments as 10 having been fired from a 9mm handgun that caused cartridges to spiral three 11 times with a leftward twist as they emerged from the barrel. Based on these 12 characteristics, crime lab personnel identified the make and model of the firearm
13 as a Model C9 manufactured by Hi-Point.

14 24. DPS crime lab personnel contacted Hi-Point, and learned that the company
15 had produced about 286,800 Model C9 firearms that are capable of creating the 16 characteristics that CRCL personnel purportedly found on the bullets and bullet
17 fragments recovered in the various shooting incidents.

18 B. The Pawn Shop Connection

19 25. Meanwhile, DPS personnel were under intense public pressure and media
20 scrutiny to solve the I-10 Freeway Shooting Case.

21 26. By September 2015, DPS personnel were working overtime on the 22 investigation. Detectives normally assigned to other details within DPS were 23

1 temporarily assigned to work on the I-10 Freeway Shooting Case as well. All the
2 detectives in the General Investigations Unit were assigned to the I-10 Freeway
3 Shooting Case.

4 27. On September 5, 2015, DPS officer Travis Graff started as a new detective on 5 the General Investigations Squad. He was immediately assigned to the I-10
6 Freeway Shooting Case.

7 28. Detective Graff had not at that time received any training in investigating
8 weapons-related offenses, gun identification, or ballistics.

9 29. While still being trained, Detective Graff was aware or became aware that 10 DPS had access to a computerized PAWN database.

11 30. The PAWN database, which is designed to assist in the recovery of stolen
12 property, identifies the items in possession of various pawn shops.

13 31. Detective Graff asked his supervisor, Sgt. Tony Mapp, whether he could use
14 the system to see if any Hi-Point 9 mm firearms were in pawn shops.

15 32. Sgt. Mapp responded that "if you want to buy a lottery ticket to go ahead," or 16 words to that effect.

17 33. Accordingly, on September 17, 2015, Detective Graff travelled to various 18 pawn shops to collect Hi-Point 9mm Model C9 firearms that were in pawn. DPS
19 collected eight such firearms, including one from Mo Money Pawn Shop, located at 20 1152 East Indian School Road, Phoenix, Arizona.

21 34. The PAWN database contained information about the various eight
22 firearms, including the dates and times at which they were respectively pawned
23

1 and received by their owners.

2 35. At the time that Detective Graff collected the Hi-Point C9 firearm from Mo
3 Money Pawn, he knew from the PAWN database that it had been pawned by its 4 owner on August 30, 2016 at approximately 5:31 p.m., more than four hours
5 before the occurrence of Incident D.
6

7 36. Records from Mo Money Pawn Shop confirmed that the firearm which
8 Detective Graff seized had been pawned there by Leslie Merritt, Jr. on August 30, 9 2016 at about 5:31 p.m.

10 37. On September 17, 2015, Detective Graff took the pawn shop firearms,
11 including Leslie Merritt's, to the DPS crime lab. Criminalist Christopher J.
12 Kalkowski was waiting for him.
13

14 38. At around the same time, DPS personnel were searching Leslie Merritt's
15 Facebook profile and saw that he had shared newspaper articles about the I-10
16 Freeway Shooting case.

17 39. DPS personnel told the crime lab to test Leslie Merritt's gun first.

18 40. Crime lab personnel used flawed methodology to analyze the evidentiary
19 bullets and fragments.
20

21 41. The evidentiary bullets and fragments submitted to the DPS crime lab
22 contained insufficient data for a firearm examiner to make a positive
23 individualized match to any particular firearm.

24 42. Despite their flawed methodology, on September 18, 2015, State criminalists
25 told Detective Graff that the evidence bullets from all four shooting were a "100%
26

1 match" to Leslie Merritt's gun.

2 43. Criminalists told Detective Graff that the "100% match" was true of all four
3 incidents with respect to Merritt's gun.

4 44. The opinion of the State's crime lab personnel that Merritt's gun was the 5 firearm that fired the bullets in all four shootings to a "100% certainty" was the 6 only evidence that linked Merritt to any of the shooting incidents.
7

8 C. DPS Criminalists Misled the Police About the Probability of an
9 Identification

10 45. DPS criminalists intentionally misled detectives that they could identify 11 Leslie Merritt's firearm as the source of the evidentiary bullets and fragments for 12 all four incidents with "100% certainty."

13 46. Individualized firearm identification is not like the more scientifically
14 rigorous field of forensic DNA analysis. Individualized firearm identification, as a 15 field, lacks sufficient statistical empirical foundations. The methodology is 16 subjective in nature, and based on the examiner's training and experience, and 17 subject to bias.
18

19 47. Accordingly, it is a practical impossibility, and contrary to the protocols of 20 the Association of Firearm and Tool Mark Examiners (AFTE), of which DPS CRCL
21 criminalists had affirmative knowledge, to make a firearm identification with a 22 100% certainty to the exclusion of other firearms.
23

24 48. DPS criminalists had only identified general class characteristics, but not 25 individual characteristics of the evidence bullets.
26

1 49. The State criminalists intentionally relayed information to DPS personnel
2 in a manner that lacked a scientific basis and violated their industry standards.

3 D. DPS Knew or Should Have Known that the Crime Lab Had
4 Botched the Identification

5 50. On September 18, 2015, DPS detectives executed a search warrant at the MO
6 Money Pawn Shop and picked up several pawn slips.

7 51. DPS detectives recognized that Leslie Merritt's gun was at the pawn shop on 8 August 30, 2015 at 5:31 p.m., before the time of the fourth shooting, Incident D.

9 52. DPS recognized that it was physically impossible for Leslie Merritt's firearm
10 to have been used in Incident D when it was in the pawn shop.

11 53. DPS detectives lacked any evidence that Leslie Merritt did not pawn his gun
12 at 5:31 p.m. on August 30, 2015.

13 54. Since the DPS criminalists identified each of the evidentiary bullets and 14 fragments to Leslie Merritt's gun with 100% certainty for each of the four
15 incidents, DPS recognized that if Incident D could not be linked Leslie Merritt's
16 firearm, then none of the incidents could be linked to the firearm.

17 55. In other words, DPS recognized that only one of two scenarios could be true:
18 either (a) the crime lab had botched its identification or (b) Incident D did not
19 occur when Merritt's gun was at the pawn shop.

20 E. DPS Changed the Timeline to Fit Its Theory

21 56. In response to their dilemma, DPS detectives chose to completely discount
22 the first scenario and, rather, invented a theory that the tire involved in Incident D
23
25
26

1 must have been shot days earlier, with the bullet lodging in the sidewall of the tire,
2 only to later dislodge and deflate the tire on the night of August 30, 2015, after
3 Leslie Merritt's gun was in the pawn shop.

4 57. To bolster their theory, DPS detectives conducted a second interview of the 5 driver of the BMW involved in Incident D, and suggested that he was incorrect in 6 his timing of the fourth shooting. The BMW driver disregarded their suggestion,
7 reiterating that he could tell that the tire deflated promptly upon being shot.
8

9 58. DPS crime lab again fell below the standard of care by telling DPS detectives
10 that it was possible that Plaintiff's gun could have been used in Incident D.
11

12 59. During the pendency of the criminal case against Plaintiff, Defendants failed
13 to test the vehicle or tire to see whether the detective's scenario was possible.

14 60. During the pendency of the criminal case against Plaintiff, Defendants failed
15 to test the vehicle or tire to see whether the timing of the shooting twice offered by 16 the driver of the BMW in Incident D could be corroborated.

17 61. DPS' criminalist indicated that it was possible, knowing that the detectives
18 would arrest Leslie Merritt, Jr.
19

20 62. In fact, the gouge marks on the BMW tire from Incident D establish that 21 bullet passed immediately through the tire causing it to deflate almost 22 instantaneously.

23 63. In two separate interviews with DPS detectives, the driver of the vehicle of 24 Incident D was adamant that the shooting occurred between approximately 9:45
25 and 10:15 p.m. on Sunday, August, 30 2015, and that that the bullet did not lodge
26

1 in the sidewall based on all of his observation and knowledge.

2 64. DPS knew or had reason to know that no objective evidence has ever
3 supported the claim that the bullet was lodged in the tire for days before it finally 4 caused the tire to deflate.

5 F. Leslie Merritt, Jr. was Working and Taking Care of His Family

6
7 65. On September 18, 2015, Leslie Merritt was 21 years old. He was working as a
8 landscaper, and parenting two young children.

9 66. At about 6:15 p.m., Leslie Merritt was driving to Walmart to buy some 10 diapers and wipes for his five month old daughter.

11 67. After completing his purchase, he proceeded to the parking lot to return to 12 his car. Suddenly, he saw Department of Public Safety SWAT officers rushing 13 toward him, pointing their automatic rifles, and yelling at him to get on the 14 ground.

15
16 68. He could not understand why this was happening to him.

17 69. Defendants forced him to face lay down on the parking lot.

18 70. He could only think to ask why this is happening.

19 71. The officers did not respond.

21 72. Next, DPS drove him to an interrogation room. They placed him in a small 22 room.

23 73. They interrogated him for over an hour, accusing him of a crime he did not 24 commit.

25 74. Leslie repeatedly declared his innocence.
26

1 75. During the interrogation, DPS detectives lied to Leslie Merritt and told him
2 that they had video of him.

3 76. Leslie Merritt asked to see the alleged video. No such video exists.

4 77. Leslie never asked for a lawyer. He thought that since he was answering all
5 of their questions and has never fired a weapon at anyone, he would be going 6 home.

7
8 78. Instead, DPS officers booked Leslie Merritt into 4th Avenue jail. He would 9 not be released for over two hundred days.

10 79. The State arrested Leslie Merritt, Jr. without probable cause that he 11 committed a crime.

12 80. The State arrested Leslie Merritt, Jr. without an arrest warrant.

13 81. Defendants failed to produce any evidence that Mr. Merritt was present at 14 the scene of any of these shootings, let alone was a perpetrator. As Mr. Merritt was 15 factually innocent of the charges there was no such evidence that could be 16 produced.

18 G. The State and Prosecutors Suppressed Material Exculpatory
19 Evidence Before the Grand Jury and Delayed Disclosure to 20 Merritt's Counsel.

21 82. After the warrantless arrest of Leslie Merritt, Defendants chose to bring the 22 case before the Grand Jury.

23 83. The Maricopa County prosecutor misled the grand jury that Incident D
24 occurred between the dates of August 22, 2015 and August 27, 2015.

25 84. Defendants knew that Leslie Merritt did not have access to his gun at the 26

1 time of the fourth shooting incident.

2 85. Defendants knew that zero evidence supported changing the timeline of 3 Incident D.

4 86. Defendants deliberately misled the grand jury that they had any evidence to 5 support their theory that the bullet lodged in the inner sidewall of the BMW tire.

6
7 87. Defendants deliberately failed to disclose to the grand jury the physical
8 evidence of gouge marks on the BMW tire showing conclusively that the bullet
9 passed right through the tire, and that the Defendants' theory of the bullet lodging
10 in the tire was baseless.

11 88. Defendants misled the Grand Jury that the crime lab had "definitively" and 12 had "100 percent ballistically identified" Leslie Merritt's firearm to have fired the 13 bullets from the four shooting incidents.

14
15 89. Defendants deliberately misled the grand jury that the driver of the vehicle
16 in Incident D was "assuming or guessing" or "unsure" about when his BMW tire
17 sustained damage.

18 90. Montgomery or Maricopa County or both deliberately suppressed material, 19 exculpatory evidence during the prosecution, including the second interview of the 20 BMW driver in Incident D and license plate reader (LPR) data.

21
22 H. Montgomery Knew that Merritt was not the Freeway Shooter

23 91. County attorneys working for Montgomery or Maricopa County or both 24 recognized that the DPS Crime Lab had botched the identification.

25 92. As a result, county attorneys retained Forensic Firearm Expert Lucien C.
26

1 Haag, an internationally-renowned expert in the area of firearm identification,
2 who consulted with John E. Murdock, Forensic Consultant.

3 93. On or about February 3, 2016, Haag collected Merritt's gun and the 4 evidentiary bullets and bullet fragments from the DPS crime lab.

5 94. Mr. Haag reviewed the DPS criminalists' work and conducted his own
6 investigation. He failed to match Leslie Merritt's gun as the source of any of the 7 evidentiary bullets or bullet fragments in any of the shootings.

8 95. On or about April 14, 2016, Haag issued a report stating results of the 9 comparisons done by DPS were wrong and insufficient to constitute an 10 identification.
11

12 96. On or about April 19, 2016, Leslie Merritt, Jr. was released from jail.

13 97. On April 22, 2016, Maricopa County Attorneys filed a motion to dismiss the 14 criminal case against Leslie Merritt, Jr.
15

16 98. On April 25, 2016, the court dismissed the criminal case.

17 99. On or about April 29, 2016, at the request of DPS, the Bureau of Alcohol, 18 Tobacco, and Firearms completed a lab report based on its independent testing of 19 Merritt's firearm and the evidentiary bullets. They found insufficient marks of 20 value for comparison.
21

22 100. All the while, Leslie Merritt has suffered intensely and immensely from the 23 false accusations which all Defendants have levied against him.

24 101. As a result of Defendants' actions, Leslie Merritt, Jr. is afraid that DPS is 25 continuing to conduct covert surveillance of him. He feels threatened and 26

1 vulnerable. He has had difficulty sleeping and experienced loss of appetite. He 2 tends to avoid social situations, and is sometimes recognized in public and 3 confronted by strangers.

4 102. Even after the dismissal of all charges against Merritt, at least one
5 representative of DPS has publicly stated that DPS still believes that Merritt is the 6 I-10 Freeway Shooter.

7 103. Defendant Montgomery still makes public comments that Leslie Merritt, Jr.
8 is a suspect, although the evidence supporting his innocence is only getting 9 stronger.
